INTRODUCTION

By the Chief Gambling Commissioner

I am pleased to present to you my annual report for the period 1 July 2013 to 30 June 2014, the Commission's ninth full year of operation.

The Commission has a mixture of regulatory, judicial and advisory functions in relation to gambling and the gambling sector. The functions most regularly exercised by the Commission involve determining applications for approval under casino licence conditions, amending casino licence conditions and considering appeals from gaming machine operators against decisions made by the Department of Internal Affairs (the "Department").

In the last year the Commission determined 200 applications to amend casino licence conditions or grant approvals under casino licence conditions, and one appeal against a decision made by the Department.

REPORT ON ACTIVITIES

Establishment of the Commission

The Commission was established in March 2004 by section 220 of the Act. The Act provides that the Commission shall comprise up to five Commissioners.

The Chief Gambling Commissioner is Graeme Reeves, a barrister and solicitor based in Wellington. Graeme was a Gambling Commissioner from 2004 to December 2010, when he was appointed as the Chief Gambling Commissioner. The other Commissioners are:

- Lisa Hansen, who is a Wellington barrister;
- Russell Bell, who is a chartered accountant and business consultant with a background in corporate risk management and assurance;
- Donna Matahaere-Atariki, who is a consultant and lives in Dunedin.

In the year ending 30 June 2014, two Commissioners resigned from their roles: Paul Stanley (with effect from September 2013) and Abigail Foote (with effect from June 2014).

Donna Matahaere-Atariki was appointed as a Commissioner with effect from June 2014. Wendie Harvey was also appointed as a Commissioner with effect from July 2014.

Lisa Hansen was reappointed for three years from December 2013 and Russell Bell was reappointed for one year from June 2014.

The Commission is serviced by an Auckland-based Secretariat.

The duties and functions of the Commission are set out in Appendix 1 to this report.

Casinos

The Commission is responsible for casino licensing, with the Department being responsible for operating and equipment standards, game rules and compliance. Casinos can appeal the Commission's decisions on licensing matters to the High Court.

In the year ending 30 June 2014, the Commission made 200 decisions on applications to amend licence conditions, or obtain approvals under licence conditions. Applications related mainly to approval of new signage around the casinos, revised floor layouts and new game mixes. This compares to 127 decisions made last year.

New Zealand has six casinos (new ones being prohibited under the Act), varying considerably in size, as shown below:

Casino	No. of tables	No. of gaming machines
Auckland	110	1,647
Christchurch	36	500
Hamilton	23	339
Dunedin	12	180
Queenstown (Beach Street)	12	86
Queenstown (Steamers Wharf)	6	74

SKYCITY is the dominant operator in New Zealand, operating four of the six casinos; one in Auckland, one in Hamilton and two in Queenstown.

Appeals to the Commission

The Department exercises primary licensing and enforcement functions in relation to non-casino gambling (gaming machines and large-scale lotteries). As at 30 June 2014, there were 329 licensed Class 4 gambling operators, 1,321 gaming machine venues and 17,130 gaming machines in New Zealand (down from 351, 1,356 and 17,534 respectively in 2013, and down significantly from the 25,221 gaming machines that were in place in June 2003).

Operators have rights of appeal to the Commission against decisions made by the Department in circumstances including loss of licence, enforcement action and in relation to the imposition of licence conditions by the Department.

In the year ending 30 June 2014, Divisions of the Commission determined one Class 4 appeal and one pre-hearing application on a Class 4 appeal. This compares to the eight decisions made by the Commission last year.

Other appeals were filed with the Commission, but did not proceed to hearing.

An appeal is heard on a de novo basis, meaning that the Commission considers the matter afresh.

Appeal by Pub Charity Inc

As noted in last year's annual report, Pub Charity applied for Judicial Review of Commission decision GC06/12. The Judicial Review application challenged both the Secretary for Internal Affairs (the "Secretary") original decision to suspend Pub Charity's licence for breach of a regulatory expenditure limit and the Commission's decision on appeal. The High Court granted Pub Charity's application and set aside the original decision of the Secretary and, as a consequence, the subsequent decision of the Commission. Of importance to the future operation of the Act, the High Court held that the power to suspend operator's licences could not be used to impose a sanction for past, non-continuing breaches. The Secretary appealed the High Court's decision.

In December 2013, the Court of Appeal released its judgment on the Secretary's appeal; it overturned the High Court's decision and confirmed the ability of the Department (and the Commission on appeal) to suspend licences for past, non-continuing breaches by the licence holder. The Court of Appeal remitted Pub Charity's appeal to the Commission for fresh consideration.

Appeal by Phoenix Charitable Trust Limited

Phoenix appealed to the Commission against a decision by the Secretary to refuse its application for a Class 4 operator's licence. The Secretary refused to grant the licence because he was not satisfied of certain grounds under section 52 of the Act.

In reaching its decision confirming the decision of the Secretary, the Commission made a number of important rulings in relation to the granting of Class 4 operator's licences.

In its submissions, Phoenix argued that the Department was not able to prove to the Commission that Phoenix and its key people were unsuitable to hold an operator's licence. That is, Phoenix suggested that the appeal should proceed on the basis of a presumption of satisfaction about all essential licensing matters which could only be displaced by compelling evidence from the Department to the contrary. The Commission rejected the suggested approach, holding that licences can only be granted to applicants who satisfy the Secretary (or the Commission on appeal) that all section 52 grounds are or will be met and that there is no starting presumption of satisfaction to be displaced.

As the decision-maker must be satisfied of each of the grounds, any aspect that could result in dissatisfaction is something for an applicant to deal with in such a way that satisfaction is achieved, with section 52 requiring that doubts about satisfaction must be resolved against an application by its refusal.

Miscellaneous

In the year ended 30 June 2014, the Commission commenced reviews of the Host Responsibility Programmes for the Hamilton, Queenstown and Wharf casinos. A decision approving new Programmes for these casinos was released early in the 2015 working year.

The Commission maintained regular contact with stakeholders throughout the year, including representatives from all six casinos, the Class 4 sector, the Department, Ministry of Health, researchers and treatment providers. The Commission also met with gambling regulators in Australian jurisdictions and briefed them on the Commission's work.

The Commission continues to keep abreast of relevant gambling issues at both governance and management levels.

Procedures

In exercising its functions, the Commission has wide powers to determine its own procedures, to engage experts and to receive evidence. The policies and procedures developed by the Commission, and the decisions which it makes, are all published on its website.

Appeal proceedings are run along judicial lines. Procedures involve filing of submissions and affidavit evidence by the appellant, submissions and evidence in response by the respondent Secretary, and submissions and evidence in reply from the appellant.

The Commission consults on applications to amend licence conditions with the casino licence holder, the Secretary and affected persons.

The Commission can, and does, obtain independent legal advice in relation to matters under consideration – both casino applications and appeals.

Apart from its decisions, the Commission (mainly through the Commission Secretariat) communicates on an ongoing basis with stakeholders.

Administration

Under the Act, the Commission has no power to acquire, hold or alienate property, or to employ staff. Instead, the Act requires the Department to service the Commission by arranging the administrative services necessary for the Commission to perform its functions.

The Act also requires the Commission to make decisions independently of the Minister and the Secretary, and to have a stand-alone office. This is located in Auckland.

The Commission is funded from the Department's vote, but, as noted above, is functionally independent. The Commission's annual budget for 2013/2014 was $1,127,254, which was under-spent by $320,845. The Commission notes that its annual expenditure is variable; depending upon the volume of applications and appeals before it, and any litigation with which it is involved.

Commission Meetings

The Commission met 11 times during the year under review: 12 July, 9 August, 13 September, 11 October, 8 November, 6 December 2012; and 14 February, 14 March, 11 April, 13 May and 13 June 2013.

Divisions of the Commission met on 13 September 2012; and 14 February, 14 March, 11 April, 13 May and 13 June 2014.

Commissioner Reeves attended the annual Australasian Gambling Commissioner and Board Member Forum in November 2013, and Commissioners Reeves, Hansen and Bell attended the annual Australasian Gambling Regulators' Conference in June 2014.

Future Directions

The primary focus of the Commission in 2014/2015 will be the following activities:

- the ongoing effective discharge of its licensing and appeal functions;
- continue to meet with the sector;
- undertake a review of the Host Responsibility Programmes for the Christchurch, Dunedin and Auckland casinos;
- undertake preparatory work in relation to the facilitation and consultation on the setting of the Problem Gambling Levy; and
- keep the Minister informed of developments relating to the Commission's functions.

Duties and Functions of the Commission under the Act

The Commission is an independent decision-making body with the powers of a Commission of Inquiry. Its functions are wide-ranging, and include the following:

Class 3 gambling involves prizes of more than $5,000, but does not take place at a casino or involve gaming machines. Class 4 gambling relates to non-casino gaming machine operations;
- considering and dealing with complaints about the way the Department has handled complaints in relation to Class 4 gambling;
